VERLYN 1960
LYNDON TEACHERS COLLEGE
Lyndon Center, Vermont

"To the stars through difficulties."

The fountain of collegiate youth burst forth into a new galaxy. Through seemingly insurmountable difficulties, problems, and infinite periods of inexplicable happiness, the Soul of the graduates shoots out to conquer new horizons.

Reaching the end of the journey to the stars constitutes only the beginning of another excursion towards a more distant spiral of nebula. Education moves forward through the stars. We move forward: Forward Ever, Backward Never!

DEDICATION

It is with endless thanks for the hard work given to Lyndon, and for the friendship that he gave to all students that knew him, and for the help he gave to everyone, that this edition of Verlyn is dedicated to our past president, Mr. Arthur Elliott.

IN MEMORIAM

We, the friends of Sharon Maureen Cole remember her as a person with many talents and abilities. We all have our own memories of Sherry. However, we associate Sherry with sincerity, thoughtfulness, and understanding of others. These qualities in addition to her personality and her ability to make and keep friends will never be forgotten by her classmates of 1960.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the class of 1960:

You leave Lyndon at a time when education is being subjected to close and sometimes unsympathetic scrutiny, and your performance as teachers will be in the spotlight. But this does not worry me—neither should it worry you. For we share the confidence that you have been well prepared for your profession and that you have a solid claim to being educated men and women.

Remember always that the quality of a school depends not upon its size nor upon the lavishness of its equipment, but upon the quality of the teaching that takes place in it. You have it in your hands to ensure this quality.

I wish you all possible success, as well as the realization of the most lasting satisfaction in this greatest of professions.

DR. R. LONG

DEAN MARS

Civilization has been accused of madly racing to know more and more about less and less until it knows everything about nothing.

With man about to enter the Space Age, it appears to the ordinary citizen as if this is really true. It remains for you — today's graduates, tomorrow's teachers — to instill in our youth a real enthusiasm for life. Your task is to build an understanding, appreciation and concern for the great and tremendous challenge which is the heritage of today's children.

I trust that you will perform your duty with conviction and courage.

MRS. GALLAGHER

Another group of teachers from Lyndon is prepared to join those already in the profession. Each of you, as a neophyte, is aware that his training is a foundation which grows in strength and depth with experience.

We at Lyndon are proud of our graduates. The standards of modern teaching which they maintain are recognized throughout the state of Vermont as evidence by the demands made for them from far and near. We trust that you will add to the growth of good teaching and of responsible citizenship.

FORD FOUNDATION

The Educational Resources Project sponsored by the Ford Foundation completes its third and final year of operation at Lyndon this June.

The purpose of the Project as outlined in the grant from the Foundation was to assist schools in which there existed a shortage of trained personnel, and where classes are too large for the teacher to manage effectively. In addition to the expressed purposes, the Project has performed other functions, viz; students who have participated in the Project have sensed a personal enrichment from their work.

We have two Communion Breakfasts a year. We also have study groups at which time we study religion and its function. Also, we do one thing for charity, for the poor, and for the blind.

This organization seems to unify our group and bring us closer to one another. Of course, we also have all kinds of fun at our various social events.

LYN NEWS

Lyn News is the award winning newspaper of the college. This student run organization has served the college well by reporting the news in a factual way, keeping the students informed of things to come, and publishing the opinion to the students of the college.

The Lyn News also takes upon itself the task of planning and sponsoring the annual Press Conference which brings hundreds of high school students to the campus each fall.

The Verlyn is the college yearbook.

It is with the combined efforts of many people, students and faculty, that the yearbook is published.

Much credit goes to the staff members and the faculty adviser for unlimited efforts to produce a good annual.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

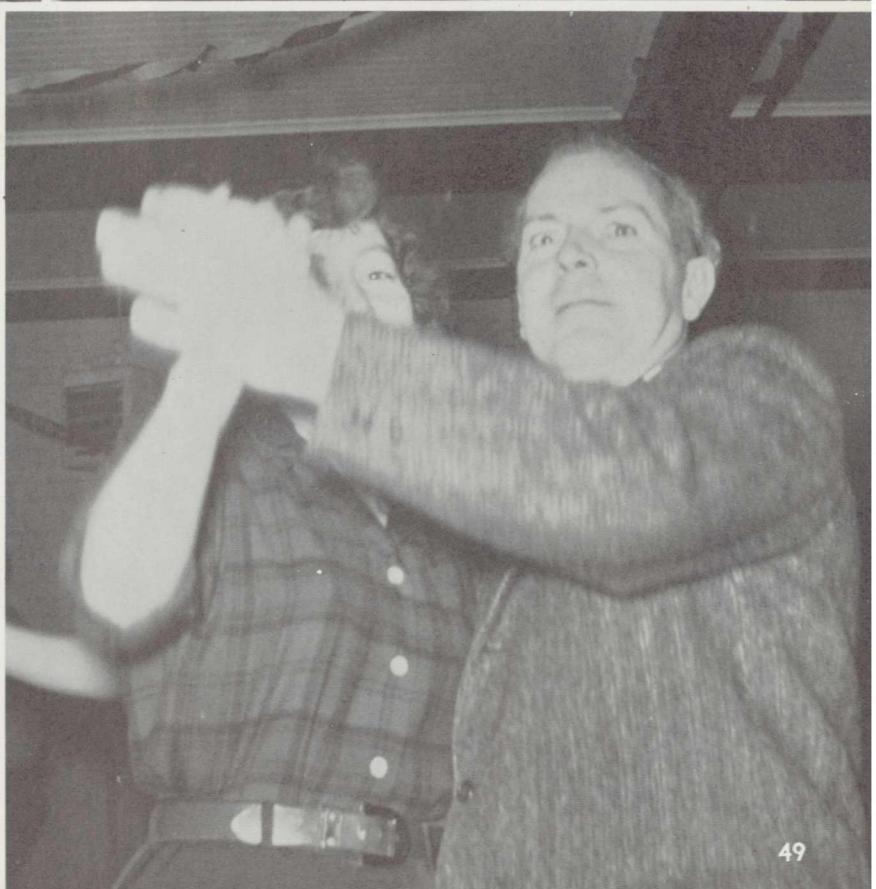

After spending a month and a half getting use to the way of life found on the LTC campus, the Freshmen made their debut on the social calendar by sponsoring the Annual Halloween Dance.

Using Bole Hall for the setting, the Frosh produce an evening full of goblins, witches, and music.

Highlight of the evening was the judging of the many and varied costumes, some, found on these pages.

The Frosh are to be congratulated for the fine job they did on the dance.

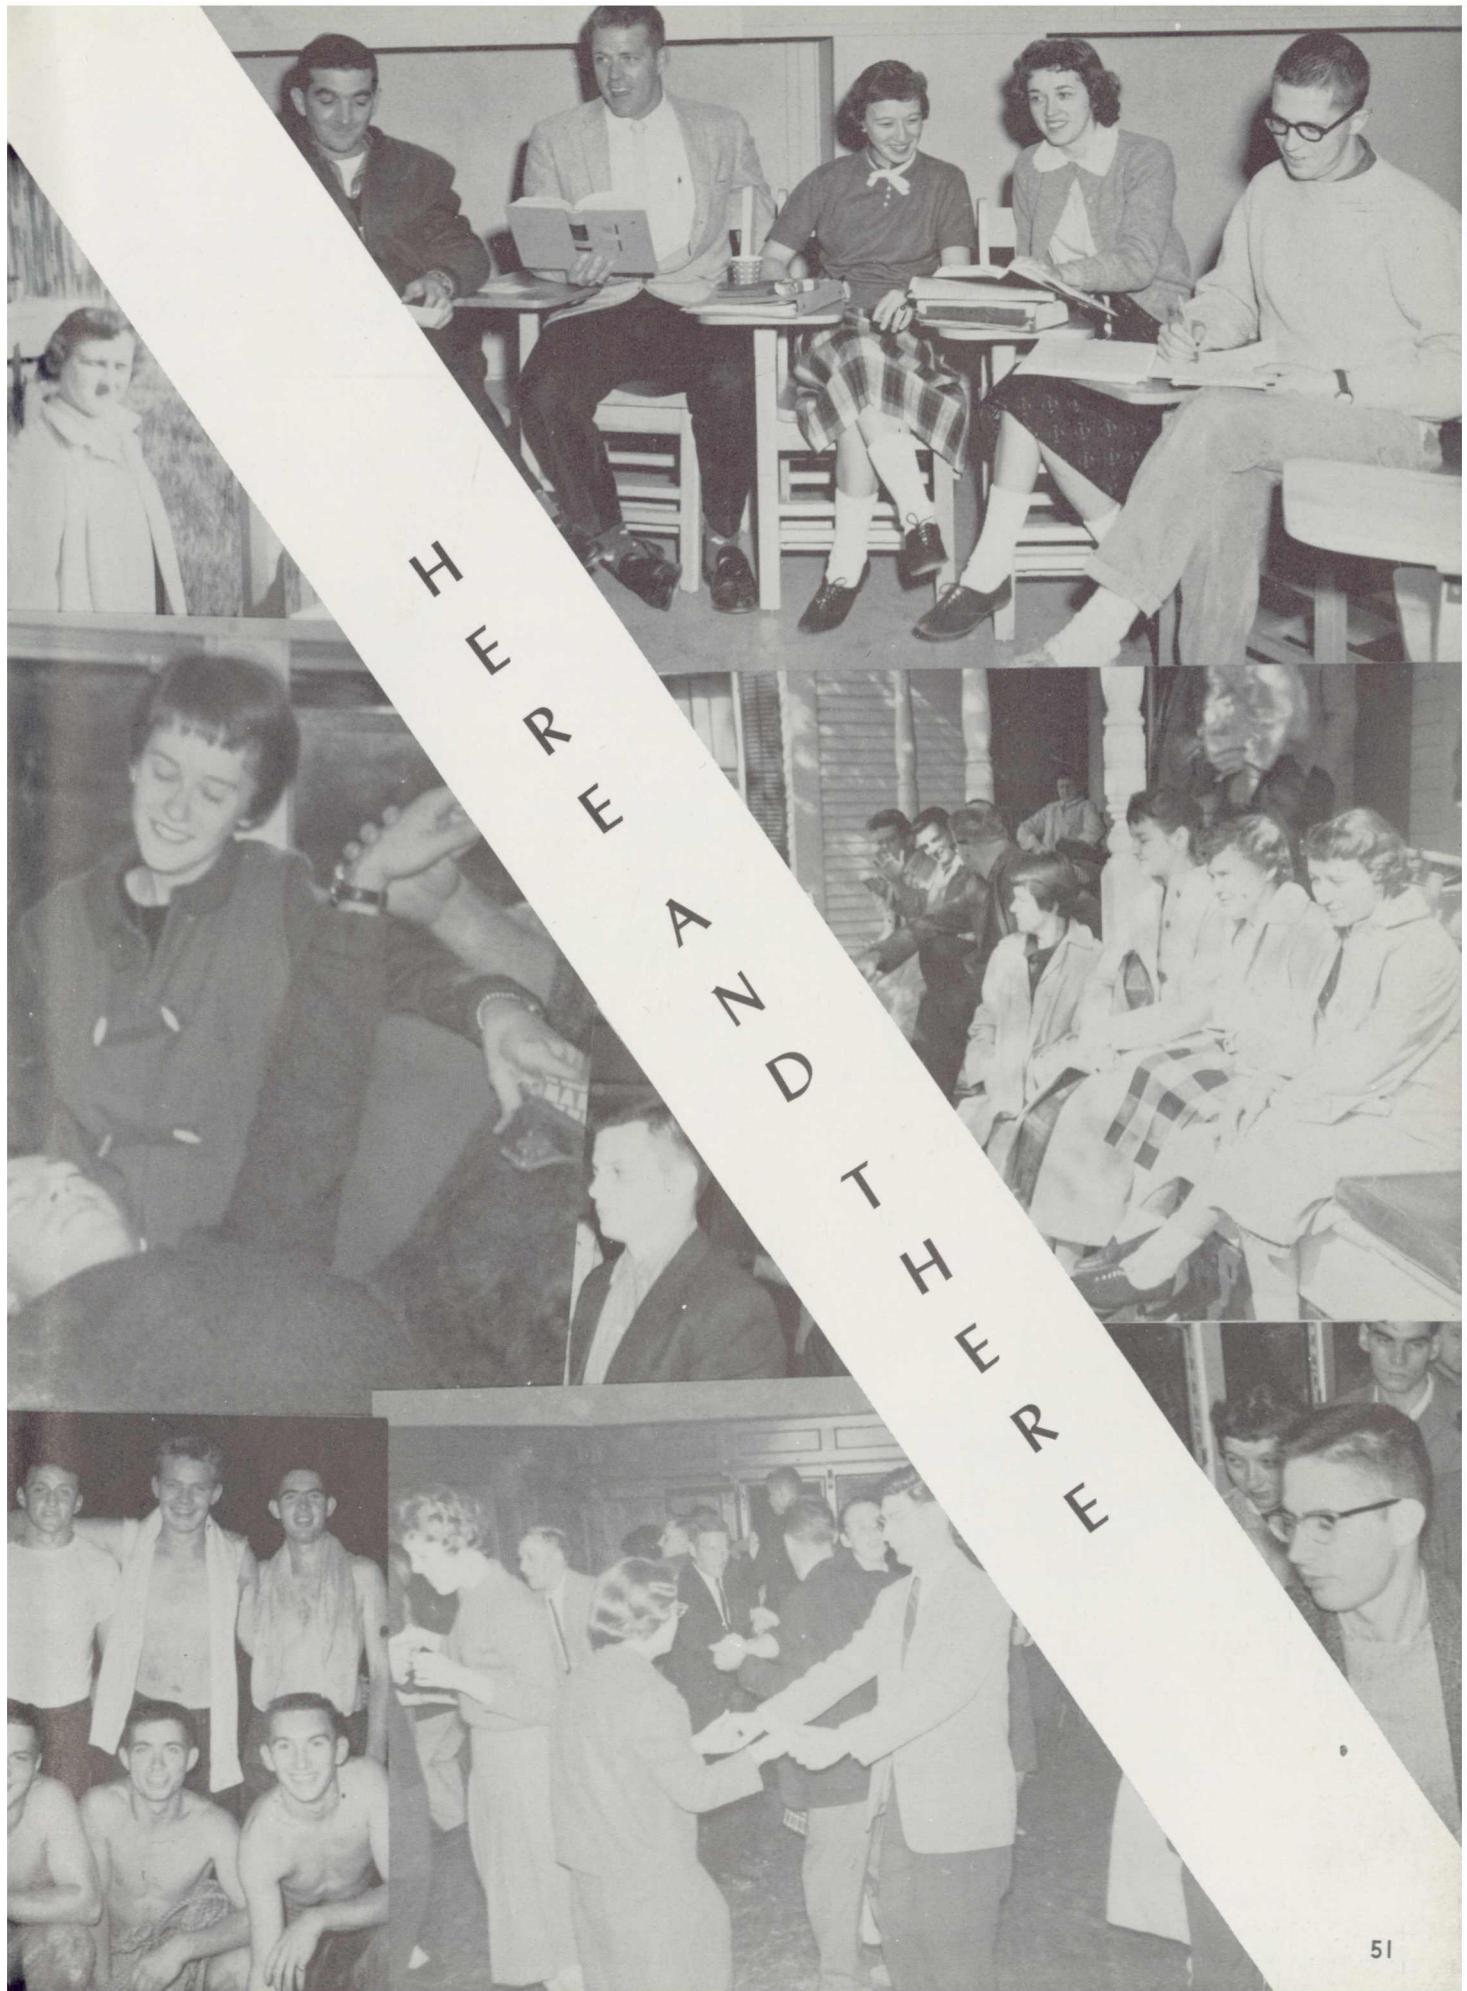

CHRISTMAS DOINGS

As usual, the Christmas season brought much fun and many decorations to the LTC campus.

The center of attraction was the main lobby, which was decorated in beautiful fashion, with a gigantic tree as the main point of interest.

Christmas activities were culminated with the college-wide party, and stair-singing, and the very well planned Christmas Ball sponsored by the Sophomore class.
